Editorial

It gives us immense pleasure to bring forward the first News Bulletin of the Department of Commerce.

A bulletin not only presents an overview of the different activities held by the department in a year, but it also puts forward the hardwork, integrity and efforts of the students and teachers of the Department.

We are very much grateful to our Principal Dr. Dharmendra Nath sir for his support and encouragement in presenting out this bulletin successfully. We are also thankful to our departmental colleagues and students for their support and help in publishing this bulletin.

In this bulletin, we have attempted to showcase a variety of activities and events representing the creativity and vibrancy of our department. We would like to urge our students to show and explore their talents further in the future in both academic and non-academic activities and hope that the Department will witness more innovative ideas and student engagement beyond the classrooms.
